As a performing organization that relies on all of its members, the CHS Marching Band requires that you attend all rehearsals and performances. Other school activities may excuse you from participating in some of these events, but absences from both activities must be equitable. Employed students should notify their workplace of the entire schedule of events in advance.

Events that would excuse you from school will generally excuse you from band practice or performance – personal illness, family emergency, pre-approved family activity, etc. Please submit a written explanation of your absence with a parent signature the next time you see the director for class, practice, etc. If you know of a conflict in advance, please submit your written request with as much notice as possible so that adaptations can be made.

Please refer to the course syllabus for information on how attendance affects your grade.
